

The New Data Leaders: Credit and Finance

How Credit Departments Can Build Relationships and Drive Growth

As Finance organisations increasingly become drivers of growth, Credit departments can take a lead role in data strategy and management. With smart data on customers and prospects, Credit can be a powerful force in contributing to sales and identifying new business opportunities.

THE CREDIT CHALLENGE: FROM RISK TO OPPORTUNITY

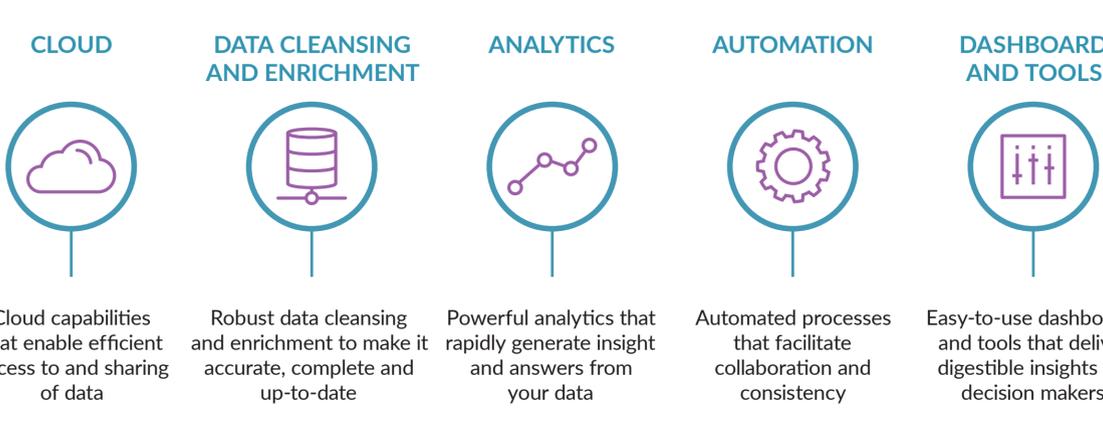

Credit's new role expands from risk mitigation to opportunity management. With good data and the right technologies, Credit is well suited to develop the collaborative relationships that can meet growth targets company-wide.

NEW TECHNOLOGIES, NEW UNDERSTANDING, NEW GROWTH

With the right technologies and the right data, Credit and Finance can improve collaboration and facilitate interdepartmental sharing and understanding of insight.

THE RIGHT TECHNOLOGY TO DRIVE THE RIGHT KIND OF GROWTH

Technology and data are critical for intuitive, growth-orientated decision-making, but careful assessment is required to deploy the right solutions.

- + Improves cross-departmental relationships
